

In romanization entries, * means it's a second meaning/usage of an already listed word.

In meaning entries, * means there's something irregular about its conjugation/forms. Animacy, if mentioned, is often abbreviated (m/s/i).

In PoS (part of speech) entries:

d marks a determiner, n a noun;

vi marks an intransitive verb, v(t) a possible transitive;

a marks an adverb, a(c) an adverb that can also function as a conjunction;

* marks a verb that can compound to other verbs;

! marks a verb that can lead another verb, but only some that might be unintuitive are marked - there are plenty of others.

In derivation entries, suffixes and only suffixes are in caps.

If it's lowercase, it's incorporated as part of the base word, not written as a suffix.

In animacy entries, * marks the existence of another version of a verb.
